

Congregate and celebrate.

A weekly noncommercial radio show
dedicated to live music
and its surrounding community

Tuesdays @ 10pm
Live to Boston at 1670 AM
Live to the world at www.abfreeradio.org

Congregate and celebrate.

A weekly noncommercial radio show
dedicated to live music
and its surrounding community

Tuesdays @ 10pm
Live to Boston at 1670 AM
Live to the world at www.abfreeradio.org

Congregate and celebrate.

A weekly noncommercial radio show
dedicated to live music
and its surrounding community

Tuesdays @ 10pm
Live to Boston at 1670 AM
Live to the world at www.abfreeradio.org

Congregate and celebrate.

A weekly noncommercial radio show
dedicated to live music
and its surrounding community

Tuesdays @ 10pm
Live to Boston at 1670 AM
Live to the world at www.abfreeradio.org

(it's pronounced "Liv Live", chowdahead.)

Q: Who Are We?

A: Live Live is a noncommercial community radio program and web resource created and staffed entirely by volunteers. Our premise and reason for existing is to celebrate and encourage the live music experience and foster the community that develops around live music. We expose our audience to music that they might not otherwise find on an increasingly homogenized radio dial. We also make great efforts to give the musician a forum to discuss, perform, and promote their own music directly. We aim to focus on the success of the artist rather than the industry of packaging and distribution; to bridge the gap between artist and audience without losing the message under a blanket of corporate policy or play lists. In terms of live music, Live Live puts what is good back on the radio dial, and puts the media back in control of the people.

interviews and performances from:

addison groove project - altitude music - 8 deep - galactic - hi8us - mad dog trio - michael franti and spearhead - the motet - nikulydin - pete pidgeon and arcoda - peter prince and the trauma unit - ryan montbleau - sound tribe sector 9 - tea leaf green - townhall - uncle sammy - the usual unusuals - yonder mountain string band - zox - and more...

Find your groove. Share it with a friend! Live Live.

(it's pronounced "Liv Live", chowdahead.)

Q: Who Are We?

A: Live Live is a noncommercial community radio program and web resource created and staffed entirely by volunteers. Our premise and reason for existing is to celebrate and encourage the live music experience and foster the community that develops around live music. We expose our audience to music that they might not otherwise find on an increasingly homogenized radio dial. We also make great efforts to give the musician a forum to discuss, perform, and promote their own music directly. We aim to focus on the success of the artist rather than the industry of packaging and distribution; to bridge the gap between artist and audience without losing the message under a blanket of corporate policy or play lists. In terms of live music, Live Live puts what is good back on the radio dial, and puts the media back in control of the people.

interviews and performances from:

addison groove project - altitude music - 8 deep - galactic - hi8us - mad dog trio - michael franti and spearhead - the motet - nikulydin - pete pidgeon and arcoda - peter prince and the trauma unit - ryan montbleau - sound tribe sector 9 - tea leaf green - townhall - uncle sammy - the usual unusuals - yonder mountain string band - zox - and more...

Find your groove. Share it with a friend! Live Live.

(it's pronounced "Liv Live", chowdahead.)

Q: Who Are We?

A: Live Live is a noncommercial community radio program and web resource created and staffed entirely by volunteers. Our premise and reason for existing is to celebrate and encourage the live music experience and foster the community that develops around live music. We expose our audience to music that they might not otherwise find on an increasingly homogenized radio dial. We also make great efforts to give the musician a forum to discuss, perform, and promote their own music directly. We aim to focus on the success of the artist rather than the industry of packaging and distribution; to bridge the gap between artist and audience without losing the message under a blanket of corporate policy or play lists. In terms of live music, Live Live puts what is good back on the radio dial, and puts the media back in control of the people.

interviews and performances from:

addison groove project - altitude music - 8 deep - galactic - hi8us - mad dog trio - michael franti and spearhead - the motet - nikulydin - pete pidgeon and arcoda - peter prince and the trauma unit - ryan montbleau - sound tribe sector 9 - tea leaf green - townhall - uncle sammy - the usual unusuals - yonder mountain string band - zox - and more...

Find your groove. Share it with a friend! Live Live.

(it's pronounced "Liv Live", chowdahead.)

Q: Who Are We?

A: Live Live is a noncommercial community radio program and web resource created and staffed entirely by volunteers. Our premise and reason for existing is to celebrate and encourage the live music experience and foster the community that develops around live music. We expose our audience to music that they might not otherwise find on an increasingly homogenized radio dial. We also make great efforts to give the musician a forum to discuss, perform, and promote their own music directly. We aim to focus on the success of the artist rather than the industry of packaging and distribution; to bridge the gap between artist and audience without losing the message under a blanket of corporate policy or play lists. In terms of live music, Live Live puts what is good back on the radio dial, and puts the media back in control of the people.

interviews and performances from:

addison groove project - altitude music - 8 deep - galactic - hi8us - mad dog trio - michael franti and spearhead - the motet - nikulydin - pete pidgeon and arcoda - peter prince and the trauma unit - ryan montbleau - sound tribe sector 9 - tea leaf green - townhall - uncle sammy - the usual unusuals - yonder mountain string band - zox - and more...

Find your groove. Share it with a friend! Live Live.